HANDMADE IN ENGLAND

PHOTOGRAPHY

PROVENANCE • LEGACY • EXCLUSIVITY

Stella Scordellis is a highly acclaimed British photographer, who brings a wealth of experience from a career which spans three decades. Stella has built a fantastic reputation by capturing her subjects with their family and friends, with treasured possessions, with personal collections and in corporate environments.

Stella proudly creates a truly intimate experience by working with you and your ideas to craft beautiful photographs in order to preserve irreplaceable moments in time. She offers a personal service from start to finish which includes an initial in-depth consultation, and a vast array of options for the finished images.

You can showcase your photographs through wall art and whether you choose our beautiful frames or a canvas, your images will be a stunning addition to your home or workplace. Alternatively Stella works in collaboration with the finest British craftsmen to expertly design and print your photographs on Mohawk Superfine Paper - the finest printing paper made today. The images are handcrafted in England and bound in a unique bespoke book - tailored to your individual requirements. This creates a provenance and legacy for yourself, a loved one, VIP clients or corporate gift.

If this appeals to you, or someone you know, we invite you to contact us with your ideas so we can bring them to life. You are assured that each commission we undertake will be treated with the utmost respect and discretion.
